NOTE TO THE TEXT

This is the first expansion of the Temne Language Manual which has been used by Peace Corps Sierra Leone for a number of years. It is also the first time the official Temne alphabet is used.

This piece of work has been done by people who have had a lot of experience with Peace Corps Education Training Programs in particular and, have the courage to compile such a comprehensive Language manual for Peace Corps, Sierra Leone.

A lot of vocabulary, grammar, proverbs, useful expressions, situational dialogues and some popular Temne songs have been incorporated into the manual.

In attempting to review the original Peace Corps Temne Manuals a lot of resource materials have been drawn from scripts produced mainly in the Grammar of the Language. The authors of such reference materials are highly commended for their enviable work, although their works are not originally produced for audio-lingual teaching and the necessary modifications have had to be made to fit the 'borrowed' material into this manual.

This manual is rich enough to suit any Peace Corps Training Programme - much depends on the Instructor's creativity to utilize the materials provided.

The APCD Training, Mr. A.V.V. Musa, needs to be highly commended for his initiative in promoting the success of this language workshop.

In as much as the participants (writers) do not claim to be professionals in this area, we would welcome any relevant observations, comments and recommendations from readers and instructors.

THE TEMNES

The Temnes form the major tribal group in the Northern Province of Sierra Leone, and majority of them are muslims. They can be found in all the five Districts of the Northern Province, although mainly in the Tonkolili, Bombali and Port Loko Districts. Because of this varied habitation, there are varied dialects of the Temne Language itself - for example, YONI, SANDA, BOMBALI, KONIKAY, KHOLIFA etc.

The Temnes are mainly rice growers although they also cultivate crops like groundnut, sorghum, millet, guinea corn and pigeon peas on a relatively large scale. Their interactions with other ethnic groups, like the Fullahs have introduced cattle herding and sedentary farming among some of the Temnes.

The tribe is typically rural although many of its people are fast developing a tendency to migrate to the urban areas, leaving the agricultural lands fallow and unproductive.

From history, the Temnes are believed to have migrated from the FUTA DJALLON Highlands (REPUBLIC OF GUINEA) into Sierra Leone mainly through the forces and dictates of wars and trade with other tribes from the Western Sudan.

They are war-like and have maintained their cultural heritage for decades, until they became islamised by the Fullahs.

The dominant secret societies among the Temnes are the PORO for the men and BONDO for the women.

Western influence has greatly influenced the tribe in many ways, including their traditions and customs, thus affecting the cultural continuity of the tribe.

The Language itself has greatly been modified by various tribal influences. This has greatly increased and affected the Temne vocabulary and grammar. A lot of words in Temne can therefore be common with other words used in other ethnic groups like the Limbas, Mandigos, Fullahs and Susus etc., which are important tribal groups in Temne land and share common boundaries in many cases with typical Temne Speaking regions.

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

Generally speaking, trade has been the most important single factor in this tribal admixture.

Learners of the Language should therefore not be surprised to hear certain words in other tribal languages which may be similar to certain Temne words. No doubt the Language has grown immensely. But it is only now that the Literature of the Language is gaining momentum. Thanks to the activities of the Missionary Agencies in this country.

TEMNE ORTHOGRAPHY

Writing a Temne Orthography for this text has not been easy, since, in keeping with the normal rules of producing a good orthography, basic considerations like Accuracy, Economy, Consistency and Similarity are important. The text has found problems in particularly fulfilling the "Similarity" element which caters for similar orthographies to facilitate the reading of another's language.

The Printing Presses have been mainly geared towards producing materials for European Languages, which has got a disastrous effect on African Languages in general.

Also, the different dialects and the fast growth of the Temne Language due to the various tribal interactions, have made it difficult to locate specific vocabulary for certain words to suit all regions in Sierra Leone - hence the Temne Lingua Franca is difficult to write.

A writer mainly has to have initiative to use certain vocabulary and expressions, anticipating that they will be understood by alll Temne speaking people in Sierra Leone.

Although Temne is a Tone Language with relative pitch levels (though not absolute) associated with every word, for the sake of convenience, Tone Marks have not been indicated. Also, many sounds occur in Temne, some of which either do not appear in the English Language or have a different distinction.

The instructor should use his/her expertise to treat an actual situation by using sounds that can be easily understood by the people taught.

C O N S O N A N T S

They produce relatively very little difficulty - b, d, f, h, k, l, m, n, ŋ, p, r, s, t, w, y. 'Th' and 'Gb' are digraphs. The 'Gb' is the most difficult consonant. It is a single sound which is often considered to be a "g" and a "b" pronounced simultaneously. Most new trainees and even 'old' PCVs who have been in the country for a while, frequently utter "g", "b" rather than "gb". Mostly, the best pronunciation comes out like a "b".

E.g:	Gbɛmgbɛ	-	bɛmbɛ	-	pepper
	kagbɔm	-	kabɔm	-	village
	gbut	-	but	-	short

and so on.

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

Another sound is "ŋ". It is often pronounced like "ng" in sling, sing or sting.

A phrase like 'Munoŋa' if not more 'awful' than that.

In some cases, the distinction between 'd' and 'r' are neutralized. Where this happens, it is recommended that "r" be used.

Example: ro, do, rim, dim, deke, reke, re, de.

Where "w" and "y" alternate, it is recommended that "w" be used.

V O W E L S

There has been a degree of inconsistency in this area. However, eight vowels have been identified for the purpose of this manual.

They are: a, e, ɛ, i, o, ɔ, u, ə

GLIDES OR DIPHTHONGS

These include:

ai	as in	"akai"	-	young bush
ei	" "	ukei	-	thief
oi	" "	boi	-	fertile
ui	" "	kui	-	crocodile
ɔi	" "	bɔi	-	immerse

NOTE TO THE TEACHER

Teaching is an art, a rather difficult art. As 'there' are many ways to go to heaven', so also there are many ways to 'reach your students'. There are indeed varied teaching techniques and methods.

Here are some basic principles and methods to help you teach effectively:

1. Know your subject matter to your finger tips. That is, be very familiar with the grammar, dialogues, useful expressions, vocabulary and proverbs etc., in each lesson.
2. Be cheerful, patient and punctual.
3. Teach enough practical and conversational skills to enable the learner to have a foundation on which to build.
4. Teach your lessons with eagerness, confidence and a sense of humour.
5. Be an enthusiastic and alive teacher. A teacher with little or no zest for life is bound to have problems with his/her class.
6. Instil in the students the desire to go on learning the Temne Language by reminding them of their daily progress. Let them know that Rome was not built in a day and that they must not expect to learn Temne all at once.
7. Never make a mockery of the student's slowness and inability to pronounce or learn certain words or phrases properly. Appreciate whatever little effort your student makes in learning the Language.
8. Maintain a positive classroom atmosphere throughout. Your classroom should be a place where the students have a good time learning Temne.
9. Positive reinforcement is an essential ingredient in the art of teaching. Praise your students occasionally - even adults like to be encouraged, therefore, let them be made aware of their advancement in the language.

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

10. If you can, occasionally take your class out where they can use the language. Also let them see you use it.

11. Act out (dramatize) greetings and conversations. Make them as real as possible. This helps to motivate your students greatly.

12. Bring actual objects into the classroom. Use photos and sketches where this isn't practical. A picture is worth a thousand words, but the real object is even better. A lot of pictorial cues have been included in this manual. Use them to help your students review vocabulary and construct simple sentences of their own, thus enabling them to function much more effectively in the language.

13. Develop a lot of situational dialogues that your students will often encounter. Teach your students the essentials of the Temne Language so that they can develop practical and conversational skills.

14. Remember that "too much of one thing is good for nothing". Therefore, vary your classroom techniques often enough to keep the students alert and interested.

15. Be creative and use your initiative to explore the relevant portions of the manual to help meet the immediate needs of your students. You don't have to follow the plan of this manual to the letter. It only attempts to offer the basis on which to build.

16. Encourage a lot of role play in your lessons - this reduces boredom and facilitates learning.

A. DIALOGUE

Good dialogues give learners different ways of how people talk to each other in actual life situations. A dialogue teaches what people might say. They give all students in class a chance to converse. The shy students can gain confidence in themselves through dialogues.

A series of dialogues on a given topic prepare students to develop their own conversations.

I. PRESENTATION

(a) Teacher reads and explains the difficult and new vocabulary.

(b) Teacher reads and explains the narration.

(c) Teacher reads the dialogue at normal speed.

(d) Teacher reads the dialogue for the second time and uses appropriate visual aids and gestures to explain it.

(e) Repetition of dialogue sentence by sentence.

II. EXPLANATION

(a) Dramatization (role play).

(b) Student participation

(c) Pointing to the object

(d) Gestures/mimes

(e) Visual aids

(f) English or Krio (which ever is appropriate).

III. DICTATION

IV. Second Dramatization

V. Exercises (Grammar, Drills, Comprehensions, Translations etc.).

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

B. SUBSTITUTION DRILL

(a) Make a pattern sentence - e.g. "I ba aruba" - I am blessed.

(b) Drill the pattern sentence through repetition.

(c) Set a pattern exercise by saying:

(i) Your part while pointing at yourself.

(ii) Student's part while pointing at himself/herself.

(d) Then start the exercise thus:

Teacher's Cue	Trainee's Response
I ba aruba	I ba aruba
ɔ	ɔ ba aruba

C. TRANSFORMATION DRILL

(a) Make a model sentence e.g. " I kɔ ro Kambia" - I'm going to Kambia.

(b) Set a pattern exercise by saying:

(i) Your part while pointing at yourself.

(ii) Trainee's part while pointing to him/her.

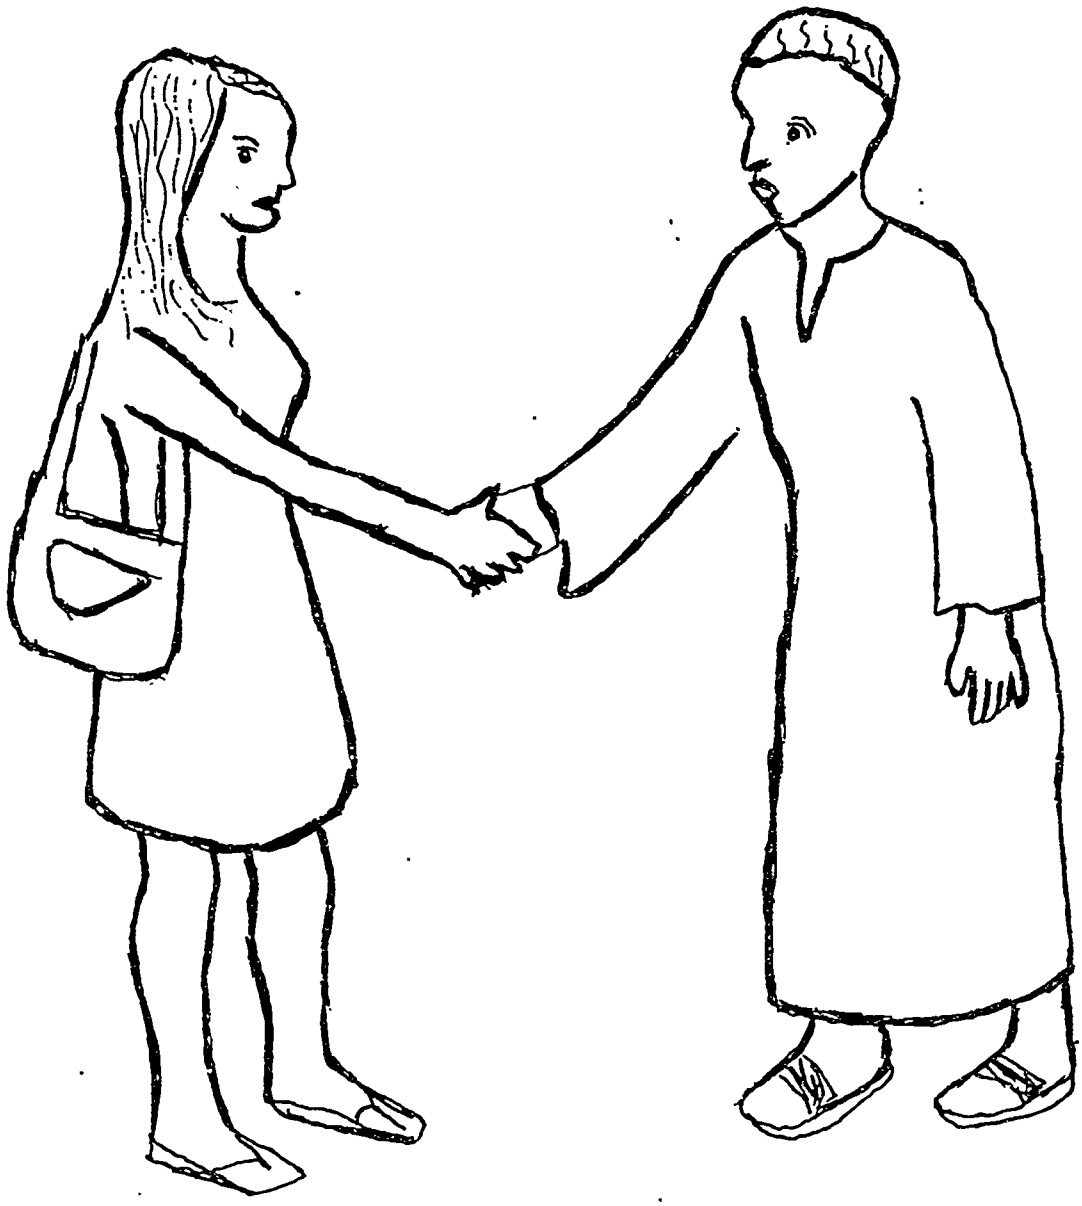

(c) Then start the exercise thus:

	Teacher	Trainee
1.	I kɔ ro Kambia (I'm going to Kambia)	I kɔ-yɛ ro Kambia (I'm not going to Kambia)
2.	Sə di ɛmuna (We eat potatoes)	Sə di-yɛ ɛmuna (We don't eat potatoes)

TEACHING GUIDES

INTRODUCTION

I. Before teaching this lesson the instructor should be conversant with the vocabulary and grammar in dialogue One.

II. The instructor should know the names of his/her trainees before the lesson starts.

III. Get trainees involved in role-play.

IV. Drill the vocabulary, read the narrative slowly before finally jumping to the dialogue using mimes, gestures etc.

DEMONSTRATIVE AND RELATIVE PRONOUNS AND ADJECTIVES

A. These pronouns vary according to the prefix of the noun to which they refer, as follows:

This	That	Who, Whom or Which
ɔwe	ɔwoŋ	ɔwo
aŋe	aŋaŋ	aŋa
ɛye	ɛyaŋ	ɛya
ake	akaŋ	aka
ate	ataŋ	ata
are	araŋ	ara
ame	amaŋ	ama
ane	anaŋ	ana
ape	apaŋ	apa

SINGULAR			PLURAL
ɔbai ɔwe	-	this chief	aŋbai aŋe	-	these chiefs
ɔbai ɔwoŋ	-	that chief	aŋ bai aŋaŋ	-	those chiefs
an bamp ɔwe	-	this bird	ɛbamp aŋaŋ	-	those birds
anant anaŋ	-	that fire	apŋla ape	-	this rice

ɔkapra ɔwɔ dif ɔsɛm

ɔkapra ɔwɔ ɔsɛm ɔ dif
the hunter whom the animal killed

aroŋ ara se taŋ
the road which we follow

aroŋ ara ko ro Makeni
the road which goes to Makeni

NOTE: (a) That there is no difference in form between the subjective and objective cases of the relative pronoun.
(b) The relative pronoun is frequently expressed by using the demonstrative form, especially when the thing referred to can be seen or is being pointed out:

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

Examples:

1. Akuma akaŋ ɔ keia
   the box which he stole
   (ie. that box, over there, which he stole)

2. Kabap ake I ba ro ta ka mi the axe which I have in my hand
   (ie. this axe here, not the other one)

B. There is also another form meaning 'this' or 'that'. This form is: kati ŋati, ɛyati, rati (dati), pati, mati, nati, tati.
It is only used when the thing it refers to is something that has already been mentioned, referred to or suggested, and something that is being pointed out.

Examples:

1. Bepi en nenk ɔwuni ɔwɔ der dis-e, wop ɔwuni kati.
   If you see the person who came yesterday, arrest that person (him).

2. Amant ama ɔ sɔŋ mu mɛ les, tɛ mun amant mati.
   The water that he gave you is bad, don't drink that water (it).

3. ɔ kɔth pali; arɔŋ dati re boli
   He walked all day; that road is long.

C. There are also two more or less idiomatic ways in which "this" and "that" are used; these are:

kɔnɔŋ	kɔnɛ-we
ŋiaŋ	ŋie-ŋe
kiaŋ	kie-ke
riaŋ	rie-re
miaŋ	mie-me
niaŋ	nie-ne
piaŋ	pie-pe
tiaŋ	tie-te

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

Both these forms are said to mean "it is this" or "it is that", but their exact meanings can only be shown by examples:

1. "Ko emba rota ka mu-e?"
   "What have you got in your hand?"

   "Kebap kaŋ" - It is an axe or
   "Kabap kiaŋ" - It's an axe

2. "Ko ogbasi teke sim aŋbanko-e?"
   "What did he use to cut down the forest?"

   "Anboka ŋiaŋ" - It was a matchet

3. "Kebap ke reke emba rota ka mu-e?"
   "Which axe did you have in your hand?"

   "Keke" - This is it or this one.

4. "Aseth areke en woŋ-e?"
   "Which house did you enter?"

   "ŋeŋe" / "ŋieŋe" - This one

CYCLES - INSTRUCTIONS

NOTE:

1. Instructor should point to himself saying - "Minɛ yi ....."
2. Drill the pattern "Minɛ yi"
3. Ask individual trainees .... "ŋes a mu-a?
4. Point to a trainee and say" "Munɔ yi"
   (Suppose the name). Point to another trainee by him and say "Minɛ yi".
5. Let one trainee stand by you and say - "Sa yi...."
6. Go down these adjectival pronouns in the manner above.

LESSON TWO

INTRODUCING A FRIEND

TEACHING GUIDES

INSTRUCTIONS

1. The instructor should be thoroughly familiar with the lesson by reading it several times ahead of the trainees.
2. The instructor should introduce new vocabulary and phrases as and when necessary to facilitate the proper understanding of the lesson.
3. Drill new and difficult vocabulary and phrases thoroughly using forward and backward build-up methods.
4. Lay emphasis on the grammatical aspect of this lesson to develop a successful lesson.
5. Keep in mind your mimes, gestures and other teaching techniques to reduce boredom.

NOUN CLASSES

All names of persons and things are grouped into noun classes. These are prefixes which each noun carries. Their functions are: (a) To show the grammatical relationships between nouns and verbs, adjectives and other words in a sentence.

The following noun class prefixes occur in Temne.

	Singular			Plural
1.	U			A
	Ubai	-	Chief	Abai	-	Chiefs
2.	U			T
	Una	-	Cow	Tɔna	-	Cows
3.	A			ɛ
	Aseth	-	House	ɛseth	-	Houses
4.	A			M
	Alemre	-	Orange	Melemre	-	Oranges
5.	K			T
	Kɔbap	-	Axe	Tɔbap	-	Axes
6.	R			N
	Rɔpɔl	-	Rope	Nepɔl	-	Ropes

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

Exceptions

		M
7.	(No Singular)	Mesoi - Soap
8.	(No Singular)	ɛmonti - Trousers

NOTE: For each singular form indicated by a noun prefix (NP), there is a corresponding plural prefix. It is therefore of extreme importance that one must always learn a noun with its prefix. It is the prefix that determine the form of other words in the sentence.

Examples:

(a)	Aseth abana	-	A big house
(b)	ɛseth ɛbana	-	Big houses
(c)	Kɔbap kɔbana	-	A big axe
(d)	Tɔbap tɔbana	-	Big axes

NOTES ON GRAMMAR I

A. OBJECTIVES:

1. Constructing descriptive phrases.
2. Learning noun class prefixes.

B. EXPLANATION

In describing people and things, the adjective takes the concord of the noun. The noun comes first and is followed by the adjective.

The exercises below practice the noun and adjective concords necessary to construct descriptive phrases with the noun classes 1 - 9.

Noun Class 1: u - /a -

a) Singular

Ubai	ufino	A fine chief
"	ules	" wicked chief
"	uboli	" tall "
"	ufɛth	" young "

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

Ubai	ubaki	An old chief
"	ugbɛnthɛ	A short "
"	ulanki	" thin "

b) Plural

Abai	afino	Fine chiefs
"	ales	wicked chiefs
"	aboli	tall "
"	afɛth	young "
"	a'ɔaki	old "
"	agbɛnthɛ	short "
"	alanki	thin "

Noun Class 2: u - t/ -

a) Singular

Una	ubana	A big cow
"	ulɛrki	" thin cow
"	afɛth	" young cow
"	ubaki	An old "
"	ulɔl	A small "

b) Plural

Tɛna	abana	Big cows
"	alanki	thin "
"	afɛth	young "
"	abaki	old "
"	alɔl	small "

Note the irregularity here. The plural t takes a concord for large animals.

Noun Class 3: A - /E -

a) Singular

Aseth	afino	A fine house
"	abana	" big "
	alɔl	" small "
	afu	" new "
	akur	" old "

Noun Class 9: - /E

a) No Singular

b) Collective Noun

ɛles	ɛfinɔ	Fine lace
	ɛyim
	ɛgbathi	plenty "
	ɛfu
	ɛkur

NOTE: The forms of prefixes we have learnt so far are the indefinite forms. They all have their definite counterparts.

	INDEFINITE			DEFINITE
1.	Ubai	-	A chief	ɔbai	-	The chief
	Abai	-	Chiefs	Aŋbai	-	The chiefs
2.	Aseth	-	A house	Aŋseth	-	The house
	ɛseth	-	Houses	ɛseth	-	The houses
3.	Una	-	A cow	ɔna	-	The cow
	Tena	-	Cows	Tana	-	The cows
4.	Alemre	-	An orange	Aŋlemre	-	The orange
	Məlemre	-	Oranges	Malemre	-	The oranges

	ɛmɛs	-	Eggs	ɛmɛs	-	The eggs
8.	Mɔsoi			Masoi
9.	ɛmonti			ɛmonti

The indefinite prefixes are all low tone while the definite are all high tone.

NOTES ON GRAMMAR II

A. OBJECTIVE

1. Making simple declarative sentences.

B. EXPLANATION

The word order for simple statements in Temne is the same as for that of English.

E.g.:

I	nɔnk	ɔlangba
I	see	the man
(s)	(v)	(o)

C. EXERCISES

The following exercise will help the trainee practice the noun classes in the definite form.

1. (a) Singular

I nɔnk ɔlangba	I see the man
ɔbai	chief
ɔbɔkɔ	woman
ɔkabi	blacksmith
ɔkapra	hunter
ɔpiskɔ	Peace Corps

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

(b) Plural - Ask the trainee to supply the plural forms

I nənk aŋlangba	I see the men chiefs women hunters blacksmiths
	etc.

2. (a) Singular

I nesa ona	I fear the cow bufallo leopard elephant

(b) Students supply the plural forms.

I nesa tana	I fear the cows
	bufallos leopards elephants

3. (a) Singular

I nənk aŋseth	I see the house
aŋsar	stone
aŋthebul	table
aŋpɛpɛ	calabash
aŋlamp	lamp
aŋthis	knife

(b) Plural Forms

I nənk ɛseth	I see the houses stones tables
	etc.

4. Practice with K/T Class

Singular

I nənk kabap	I see the axe
kalɔmp	well
katala	hoe

MONTHS OF THE YEAR

	TEMNE		ENGLISH
1.	Polpol	-	January
2.	Wolwol	-	February
3.	Bankle	-	March
4.	Gbaproŋ	-	April
5.	Bafu	-	May
6.	Yofi	-	June
7.	ŋofbana	-	July
8.	Paya	-	August
9.	Gbothko	-	September
10.	Mufer	-	October
11.	Sakoma	-	November
12.	Gbatheli	-	December

NOTE: The names of the months of the year have specific meanings. The Instructor should attempt to explain some of these meanings.

EXAMPLE:
Sakoma (November) - "Sakoma" means "we are related". It is associated with the peak of the upland rice harvesting period (ie "time of plenty") when relatives visit each other much more frequently.

NOTES ON GRAMMAR

A. VERB: THE SIMPLE PRESENT TENSE

The simple present verb in Temne is conjugated as follows:

	SINGULAR			PLURAL
1.	I yema	-	I want	Se yema	-	we want
	eŋ yema	-	you want	Ne yema	-	you (pl.) want
	o yema	-	he/she want	Aŋ yema	-	they want

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

2.	I yema kabap	-	I want the axe
	eŋ " "	-	You " " "
	o " "	-	He/she wants the axe
	Se " "	-	We want the axe
	Ne " "	-	You (pl.) want the axe
	Aŋ " "	-	They " " "

E X E R C I S E S

The Instructor should ask the trainees to construct simple sentences in Temne. They should refer back to the Noun Class Charts and the vocabulary which they have now learnt.

1. He sees the axe.
2. They fear the elephant.
3. We want the house.
4. I see the houses.
5. They want axes.
6. He wants a house.
7. She wants oranges.
8. She wants the oranges.
9. Rosaline wants a new house.
10. Solomon fears the elephant.
11. You (pl.) want large eggs.

E X P L A N A T I O N

B. When a noun is added to a sentence, the subject concord is retained, coming before the verb.

EXAMPLE:

1. ɔlangba ɔ yema aseth
   (The man) (he) wants a house

2. Aŋkapra aŋ nes-a orank
   The hunters(they) fear the elephant

3. opiski ɔ neuk eseth
   The Peace Corps (he) sees the houses

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

The subject concord must always be present and serves to link the noun with the verb and serves to make the reference clear.

C. SUMMARY

At this point the trainees should know the following about simple statements:

1. ɔlangba ɔ yema kabap
(Noun) (Sub.concord) (Verb) (Object)

2. Subject concords for the conjugation of the verb:

SINGULAR	PLURAL
I yema	Sɔ yema
eŋ yema	Nɔ yema
ɔ yema	Aŋ yema

3. Concord agreement for the third person singular and plural for Noun Class I.

E.g. ɔlangba ɔ yema kabap
The man (he) wants the axe

Aŋlangba aŋ yema kabap
The men (they) want the axe

Note that the third person concord forms covered to date only cover Noun Class I (people). The subject concord for linking other nouns to the verb are different for each noun class. Another way of looking at it is that the "it" in Temne is different for each noun class. These will come up in future lessons, but look at the following examples for clarification:

1. Ramɛs re yema thei
The egg (it) wants to rot.

2. Kablai ke yema fumpɔ
The basket (it) wants to fall

3. Aŋseth aŋ yema fumpɔ
The house (it) wants to fall

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

D. INTERROGATIVE (ASKING QUESTIONS)

i. Objectives:

a) Making questions with simple statements.

b) Affirmative and negative response patterns with subject and object concords.

ii. Explanation

We have learnt how the simple statement is formed:

ɔ nɛnk kabap - He sees the axe.

To form the question, the formative "-i" is added to the end of the statement with a rising intonation.

ɔ nɛnk kabapi? - Does he see the axe?

iii. Exercises

Follow the example given above and do the following exercises:

Change the statements into questions -

a) Sɛ yema ɔna
b) ɛŋ yema kabap
c) Nɛ yema ɛseth
d) ŋ yema mɛlemre

iv. Explanation

The response to questions such as the above would utilize the object concord which corresponds to the English "him", "her", and "it".

	QUESTION	ANSWER
1.	ɛŋ yema kabapi?	Mm, I yema ki.
	Do you want the axe	Yes, I want it.
2.	ɛn yema aŋsethi?	Mm, I yema ŋi.

As with subject concords, the object concords must change to correspond to the object noun that they refer to. The following chart shows that this additional group of concords is simplified because the subject and object concords are similar in most cases.

Noun Class	Noun Prefix	Subject Concord	Obj. Concord
1	U	o	Ko)
	A	Aŋ	ŋa)
2	U	o	Ko)
	T	Aŋ	ŋa)
3	A	Aŋ	ŋi)

E. NEGATIVE RESPONSE

The negative response to simple questions is formed by adding "-yɛ" to the verb (or -ɛ if it ends in a consonant).

EXAMPLE

	QUESTION	RESPONSE
1.	əŋ nənk tabapi?	Mm mm, I nənkɛ tabap.
	Do you see the axes?	No, I do not see the axes.
2.	ɔ yema aŋsethi?	Mm mm, ɔ yemayɛ aŋseth.
	Does he want the house?	No, he does not want the house

The negative responses can be:

1. Mm mm, I nənkɛ ti.
   No, I do not see them.
2. Mm mm, ɔ yemayɛ ŋi.
   No, he does not want it.

vi. EXERCISES

Change the statement to a question. Ask a second student to answer in the negative.

E.g: ɔ ba kabap. Student A: ɔ ba kəbapi?
He has an axe. Student B: Mm mm, ɔ bayɛ kəbap.
No, he does not have an axe.

1. ɔ ba aseth
   Student A:
   Student B:
2. əŋ ba aseth
   Student A:
   Student B:
3. Aŋ yema anak
   Student A:
   Student B:
4. Sə nesa ɔrank

Repeat the exercise; this time using object concords kɔ, ŋa, ŋi etc. where appropriate.

F. E X P L A N A T I O N

Təmne also forms questions through the use of interrogative words such as those in English - ie what, who, where, when etc.

Eg.:	əŋ yema	-	you want
	Ko əŋ yema-e?	-	what do you want?

The 'what' is expressed by putting Ko before the sentence and ending it with "-e".

Example:

1.	Ko əŋ nənk-e?	-	What do you see?
2.	Ko əŋ bothər-e?	-	" " " like?
3.	Ko əŋ nesa-e?	-	" " " fear?
4.	Ko əŋ tara-e?	-	" " " know?

The interrogative "kɛnɛ---ɛ" is also used to form "who" questions.

Examples:

1.	Kɛnɛ əŋ nənk-e?	-	Who do you see?
2.	Kɛnɛ əŋ bothər-e?	-	" " " like?
3.	Kɛnɛ əŋ nesa-e?	-	" " " fear?
4.	Kɛnɛ əŋ tara-e?	-	" " " know?

"Where" is expressed by "reke---ə"

Examples:

1.	Reke əŋ nənk-ə?	-	Where did you seee?
2.	Reke əŋ bothər-ə?	-	" " " like?
3.	Reke əŋ nesa-e?	-	" " " fear?
4.	Reke əŋ tara-e?	-	" " " know?

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

"Why" is expressed by "Kɔ ŋ——e?

Examples

1. Kɔɛŋ əŋ nənk-e? - Why did you see?
2. Kɔɛŋ əŋ bothər-e? - " " " like?
3. Kɔɛŋ əŋ nesa-e? - " " " fear?
4. Kɔɛŋ əŋ tara-e? - " " " know?

vii. EXERCISES

Translate the following into Temne:

1. Where do you come from?
2. Why do you want the house?
3. Who likes the oranges?
4. Who likes them (oranges)?
5. What do you fear?
6. What does the hunter see?
7. Who do the chiefs like?
8. Where do you see the elephant?

NOTE: In Temne, in some cases, "d" and "r" are interchangeable. They are described as "Allophones".

E.g. rim/dim - voice ru/du - plait rin/din - one ro/do - there/locative)

When this occurs, it is recommended that "r" be used constantly since "r" is more often used than "d".

E.g. rim, ru, rin, ro, etc.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Introduce the vocabulary by holding the actual objects in front of the class.
2. Repeat the name of the object three times and have the class repeat after you.
3. Drill the pattern: "A ke kəbep".
4. Substitute for "Kəbep" other items.
5. Hold an item in hand and ask a student "Ko rəka re" and have the trainee respond "A ke kəbep".
6. Have other trainees substitute for "kəbep".
7. Drill the pattern "Ko rəka re"?
8. Let trainees ask each other:

   Trainee A: Ko rəka re?
   B: A ke.....

9. Put the object on the table and move a little from the table.

E.g.

COUNTING EXERCISE

RULES

a) Cardinal numbers, being adjectives follow the noun they qualify.

b) The first four cardinal numbers vary according to the prefix of the noun they qualify.

c) All other cardinal numbers are invariable.

1. kin, ŋin, min, rin, tin, pin, win
2. ŋarəŋ, yɛrəŋ, marəŋ, tərəŋ, pərəŋ
3. ŋasas, ɛsas, masas, tɛsas, pɛsas
4. ŋanlɛ, yanlɛ, manlɛ, tanlɛ, panlɛ

When counting the form 'pin, pərəŋ, pəsas, panlɛ, is normally used, though "kin, ŋarəŋ, ŋasas, ŋanlɛ" is also used when counting people.

5	-	tamath	10	-	tofot
6	-	dukin	20	-	kəgba
7	-	dɛrəŋ	100	-	kɛmɛkin
8	-	dɛsas	1,000	-	a wulŋin

ERIC
Hosted for free on livelingua.com

When counting objects or people the form "tamthrukin, tamthedɛreŋ, tamthrɛsas, tamthrɛŋanla' (6, 7, 8, 9) is normally used.

All other cardinal numbers are formed from those already given.

11 - tɔfɔt kin
ŋin
min etc.

12 - tɔfɔt marɛŋ
ŋarɛŋ yɛrɛŋ etc.

13 - tɔfɔt masas asas
ɛsas etc.

14 - tɔfɔt manlɛ
yanlɛ
ŋanlɛ etc.

30 - kɛgba tɔfɔt kin
ŋin
min etc.

40 - tɛgb rɛrɛŋ (note that the plural of kɛgba is tɛgba)

50 - tɛgba tɛrɛŋ tɔfɔt

60 - tɛgba tɛsas

70 - tɛgba tɛsas tɔfɔt

80 - tɛgba tarlɛ

90 - tɛgba tanlɛ fɔfɔ

99 - tɛgba tanlɛ tɔfɔt tɛmthrɛŋamlɛ

100 - kɛmɛkin

200 - tɛmɛ tɛrɛŋ (note that the plural of wul is ɛ-wul)

300 - tɛmɛ tɛsas

400 - tɛmɛ tarlɛ

500 - tɛmɛ tamath

2000 - ɛ-wul yɛrɛŋ

3000 - ɛ-wul ɛsas

The first four numbers vary in form both when they stand alone and also when they come at the end of compound numbers, but not when they are part of 6, 7, 8 and 9.

GRAMMAR NOTES I

SPECIFYING THINGS

A. OBJECTIVES

1. Specifying things as "this" and "that".
2. Asking the question "which".

B. EXPLANATION

To specify something as "this" (thing) here" in Temne the noun is followed by a demonstrative corresponding to its noun class.

Example:

Ko eŋ yemae?	I yema kabap ake
What do you want?	I want this axe
	I yema tabap ate
	I want these axes
	I yema aŋseth aŋe
	I want this house
	I yema ɛseth ɛye
	I want these houses

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

The form of the demonstrative is thus determined by the noun to which it refers.

	Noun Class	Demonstrative
1.	ɔlangba	owe
	aŋlangba	aŋe
2.	ɔna	ɔwɔŋ
	tana	aŋaŋ
3.	aŋseth	aŋaŋ
	ɛseti	ɛyaŋ
4.	aŋlemre	aŋaŋ
	malemre	amaŋ
5.	kabap	akaŋ
	tabap	ataŋ
6.	rapɔl	araŋ
	bapɔl	anaŋ
7.	ramɛs	araŋ

GRAMMAR NOTES III

A. OBJECTIVES

1. Showing that something possesses something else ie: the dog of the man; the mouth of the lion.
2. Personal possessives - ie, my friend, your name, his shirt etc.

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

B. EXPLANATION

Possessive expressions denoting ownership are formed by placing a possessive concord between the thing possessed and the owner or possessor.

1. ɔ rani ka ɔkapra	The wife of the hunter
2. Kaseŋ ka ɔsip	The mouth of the leopard
3. Rapɔl ra ɔna	The rope of the cow
4. Malemre ma aŋfeth	The oranges of the children

The possessive concord is linked with the thing possessed by the noun class correspondence with an appropriate concord form. Observe the following examples.

1. ɔrani ka ɔkapra	The wife of the hunter
2. Aŋseth ŋa ɔkapra	The house of the hunter
3. Kabap ka ɔkapra	The axe of the hunter
4. Tabap ta ɔkapra	The axes of the hunter
5. Rapɔl ra ɔkapra	The rope of the hunter
6. ɛmes ya ɔkapra	The eggs of the hunter
7. Napɔl na ɔkapra	The ropes of the hunter

C. EXERCISES

Insert the appropriate possessive concord as in the example.

(aŋseth) (ɔbai) aŋseth ŋa ɔbai - the house of the chief.
(rasek) (ɔlangba)
(kapet) (aŋtita)
(aŋfon) (kalɔmɛ)
(malɛntho) (ɔthem)

A number of new vocabulary items have been introduced in these exercises. The instructor should explain the meanings of these items to the trainees so they can be included in the trainee's own vocabulary list.

D. EXPLANATION

The forms of the possessive pronouns in Temne are:

ami	-	my	asu	-	our
amu	-	your	anu	-	your (plural)
ɔŋ	-	his/her	əŋaŋ	-	their

These possessive pronouns follow the possessive concord as in the examples below:

kabap	kami	-	my axe	kabap	kasu	-	our axe
kabap	kamu	-	your axe	kabap	kanu	-	your axe
kabap	kɔŋ	-	his/her axe	kabap	kəŋaŋ	-	their axe

Note that the possessive concord is controlled by the noun:

rapɔl	rami	my rope
tabap	tami	my axes
ɛseth	ɛmi	my houses
aŋthis	ami	my knife
masu	mami	my rings
masu	masu	our rings
kapet	kanu	your town
ramɛs ɾ	rɔŋ	his egg

E. EXERCISES

Complete the following Temne sentences by inserting the appropriate noun and possessive pronoun form.

I bother	-	(my box)
	-	(our houses)
	-	(his hair)
	-	(their spoons
	-	(your rope)

VERB TENSES: VERB AND FUTURE

A. OBJECTIVES:

1. Learning the forms to express past and future time with Temne verbs.
2. Initial exploration of verb tense usage in the past.

B. EXPLANATION

The sense of past time in Temne is often expressed by the present perfect which translates in English as "have bought", "have worked", "have seen" etc. In Temne this is expressed by putting Po before the verb.

EXAMPLES

	Present			Past
1.	I di	-	I eat	I po di	-	I have eaten
2.	ɔ wai	-	He buys	ɔ po wai	-	He has bought
3.	Sə fof	-	We speak	Sə po fof	-	We have spoken

C. EXPLANATION

The simple past takes the same form as the present tense. Sometimes these are subtle variations in tone but this can be learnt only by frequent usage. The context also makes it clear whether a form is past or present.

1.	I di dis	-	I ate yesterday.
2.	ɔ wai kəbep	-	He bought a spoon.
3.	Səfof ɔwoni	-	We spoke for a long time.

D. To form the negative, the particle - (yɛ) or (ɛ) after a consonant, is added to the verb.

E.g.
	1.	I di dis	-	I ate yesterday.
	2.	I diyɛ dis	-	I did not eat yesterday.
	3.	I wai kəbap	-	I bought an axe.
	4.	I waiyɛ kəbap	-	I did not buy an axe.

E X E R C I S E S

Translate the following into Temne.

1. You have come.
2. We have seen.
3. He has walked.
4. I saw the man.
5. He did not see the elephant.
6. They went to the house.
7. I did not buy the axe.

E. EXPLANATION

The future tense in Temne is formed by the particle tə before the verb.

	Present			Future
1.	di	-	I eat	I tədi	-	I will eat.
	ɔ kɔ	-	He goes	ɔ təkɔ	-	He will go.
	ɔ tara	-	He knows	ɔ tətara	-	He will know.
	Aŋ der	-	They come	Aŋ təder	-	They will come.

The future marker tə is inserted between the noun and the verb.

The negative form of the future is similar to that for present/past forms. The tə is dropped from the verb and the negative particle added.

				Negative
1.	I tədi	-	I will eat	I diyɛ		I will not eat.
2.	ɔ təkɔ	-	He will go.	ɔ kɔyɛ	-	He will not go.

GRAMMAR NOTES II

LOCATION, TIME, MANNER

A. OBJECTIVE:

Expand sentences to include "where", "when", and "how" something happened.

B. EXPLANATION

Temne has a locative prefix ro. The exact meaning depends upon the verb and the context of the idea being communicated. It could translate as to, from, into, out of, on, by or at.

The interrogative word for asking about location or place is reke...e? where?

E.g.	Reke ɔ ko-e?	-	Where did he go?
	ɔ ko ropet	-	He went to town.
	Reke aŋ wure?	-	Where do you come from?
	I wur ro Amerika	-	I come from America.
	Reke ɔ yie?	-	Where is he/she?
	ɔ yi ro seth	-	He/she is in the house.

ro can stand by itself to mean "over there".

1. Reke ɔ koe?

Response

(a) ɔ ko ro - He went over there

(b) ɔ yira ro - He is seated over there.

C. EXPLANATION

The locative no is used as the opposite of ro.

1.	ɔ yi ro seth	-	He is in the house.
2.	ɔ yi no seth	-	He is (here) in the house.
3.	ɔ yi ro	-	He is over there.
4.	ɔ yi no	-	He is over here.
5.	ɔbai ɔ der no	-	The chief comes here.
	yira		sits
	di		eats
	dira		sleeps

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

D. The expression of time can include a wide range.

1.	(frequency)	o der a loko oloko	–	He comes everytime
		are ore	–	" " everyday
		win win	–	" " once on a while
2.	(time of day)	peresok	–	" " a day break
		beth	–	" " in the morning
		deyaŋ	–	" " in the A/noon
		refoi	–	" " in the evening
		tatak	–	" " late at night
3.	(time reference)	thonoŋ	–	today
		ninaŋ	–	tomorrow

Another group of sentence expressions are concerned with "how" something is done or happens. These are adverbs of manner and answer the questions to...e? How? in Temne.

E.g.	To ofof e?	–	How did he speak?
	ofof kethegbe	–	He spoke slowly
	fino	–	well
	lemp lemp	–	fast
	orantha	–	softly
	othan	–	a little
	o gbathi	–	a lot
	katkat	–	frequently

E X E R C I S E S

Translate into English.

1. o der no win win.
2. I yema kone ninaŋ deyaŋ.
3. Se ko ro kor peresok.
4. olangba okoth refoi kethegbe.
5. orank o di ogbathi are ore.
6. opisko oko ropet katkat.

GRAMMAR NOTES II

A. OBJECTIVES:

1. Descriptive copulatives: describing things in three basic tenses.
2. "There is/are" expressions.

B. EXPLANATION

The copulative is expressed in Temne by using special pronouns before the noun as in the examples below:

miŋ udɔktha	-	I am a doctor
muŋ udɔktha	-	You are a doctor
kɔŋ "	-	He/she is a doctor
sa adɔktha	-	We are doctors
na "	-	You are doctors
ŋa "	-	They are doctors

The negative forms are:

I yɛ udɔktha	-	I am not a doctor
əŋ yɛ udɔktha	-	You are not a doctor
ɔ " "	-	He/she is not a doctor
sə " adɔktha	-	We are not doctors
nə " a "	-	You are not doctors
aŋ " "	-	They are not doctors

C. E X P L A N A T I O N

These copulative pronoun can be preceeded by their emphatic forms.

minɛŋ, miŋ udɔktha	-	Me, I am a doctor
munɔŋ, muŋ udɔktha	-	You, you are a doctor
kɔnɔŋ, kɔŋ udɔktha	-	Him, he is a doctor
saŋ, sa adɔktha	-	Us, we are doctors
naŋ, na adɔktha	-	You, you are doctors
ŋaŋ, ŋa adɔktha	-	Them, they are doctors

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

The same emphatic pronouns can also precede the negative forms.

mi nɛŋ, I yɛ udɔktha - Me, I am not a doctor
etc.

These emphatic forms can also be used by themselves.

E.g.	kɛnɛ fɔfɛ?	who spoke	minɛŋ	- It is me.
	kɛnɛ dere?	who came?	kɔnɔŋ	- It is him.
	kɛnɛ gbasi kabepɛ?	who took the spoon?	munɔŋ	- It's you.

D. The past copulative is formed by using the subject pronoun, plus the form "la yi" was, used to be before the noun.

ɔ la yi udɔktha - I was a doctor.
ɛŋ la yi udɔktha - You were a doctor
ɔ la yi udɔktha - He/she was a doctor
etc.

The negative is formed by adding the negative particle -yɛ to la.

I layɛ yi udɔktha - I was not a doctor.
sɛ layɛ yi adɔktha - We were not doctors.
etc.

E. EXERCISES

Change the statement to the past form of the copulative.

1. miŋ, upiskɔ.
2. kɔnɔŋ, kɔŋ ntita.
3. sa atit .
4. ɔlangba kɔŋ ukapintha
5. aŋfɛth ŋa akɛrandɛ

Go over them once more, this time changing the statements into negatives in (a) Present (b) Past.

ERIC
Hosted for free on livelingua.com

F. EXPLANATION

The future copulative construction uses ti & yi instead of le & yi of the past.

1. I ti yi udoktha - I will be a doctor.
2. əŋ ti yi udoktha - He will be a doctor.
3. Sə ti yi adoktha - We will be doctors.
4. Aŋ ti yi adoktha - They will be doctors.

In the negative, bayɛ kəyi replaces ti yi.

1. I bayɛ kəyi udoktha - I will not be a doctor.
2. əŋ bayɛ kəyi udoktha - You will not be a doctor.
3. ɔ bayɛ kəyi udoktha - He will not be a doctor.
4. Sə bayɛ kəyi adoktha - We will not be a doctor.
5. Nə bayɛ kəyi adoktha - You will not be a doctor.
6. Aŋ bayɛ kəyi adoktha - They will not be a doctor.

G. The general expression of location "there is/are" is expressed by ri/rɛ. If the object referred to is near, rɛ is used; if far, then ri is used.

1. Utita rɛ - There is a teacher (here)
   Utita ri - There is a teacher (there)

F. EXERCISES

Answer the following questions.

1. ɔtita ɔyi ri-i? Nko, ɔ yi ri.
   Is the teacher there? Yes, he is there.

   a) kəbap ri-i?
   b) ɔ kɔ ri-i?
   c) ramɛs rɛi?
   d) təbep rɛi?
   e) aŋ pisko aŋ yi rɛi?

GRAMMAR NOTES IV

IMPERATIVES, REQUESTS

A. OBJECTIVE:

1. Making imperative demands.

B. EXPLANATION:

There is no change in the form of the verb for singular imperatives.

wai !	-	buy !
təla !	-	listen !
ko !	-	go !
di !	-	eat !
mun !	-	drink !
soŋ !	-	give !
gbasi !	-	take !
der !	-	come !

The negative imperative singular is formed by putting te before the verb.

te kəli !	-	don't look!
te wai !	-	don't buy !
te təl !	-	don't listen !
te ko !	-	don't go etc.

The plural imperative is formed by adding nu to the verb

kəli	nu
wai	nu
təl	nu
ko	nu
di	nu

In the plural negative, the nu comes before the verb and they are both preceded by the negative particle te.

te	nu	kəli	te	nu	ko
te	nu	wai	te	nu	di
te	nu	təl

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

C. EXPLANATION

If an object is added to the imperative then it comes after the noun.

keli aŋbuk	-	look at the book
keli ŋi	-	look at it
wai ramɛs	-	buy the egg
wai ri	-	buy it
kɔ ropet	-	go to the town
kɔ ri	-	go there
mun amant	-	drink the water
mun ma	-	drink it

If an object is added to the plural imperative, then it comes after the nu if it is a noun.

keli nu aŋseth	-	look at the house
wai nu ɛmɛs	-	buy the egg
kɔ nu ropet	-	go to the town

If the object is a pronoun, then the pronoun comes between the verb and the nu plural marker.

keli ŋi nu	-	look at it (the house)
wai yi nu	-	buy them (the eggs)
kɔ ri nu	-	go there (to the town)

D. EXERCISES

Translate the following sentences into Temne:

a) Don't buy it (the axe) !
b) Take them (the oranges) !
c) Give him the axes !
d) Give me the lamp !
e) Don't take them (the shoes) !
f) Listen to the teacher
g) Listen to him.

GRAMMAR NOTES

VERBAL SUFFIXES

Suffixes play a very important part in modifying, reversing or adding to the meaning of verbs, and in making adjectives into verbs.

I. SIMPLE SUFFIXES

1. a (or na) (a) denotes that a preposition is understood.

E.g. fi - to die
ɔ fia dor - he died of hunger yɔ - to do
yɔna mi ti - do it for me

(b) denotes continuous action

E.g. fith - blind
ɔ fitha - he is growing blind bi - dark pə bia - it is getting dark

2. i denotes reverse action

E.g. sunt - to cork up sunti - to uncork
kantha - to shut
kanthi - to open

3. ər (i) denotes that a preposition is understood and that the action of the verb is intensified.

E.g. fɔf - to speak
fɔfər - to reason with thola - to beg tholər - to beg from

(ii) converts adjectives into transitive verbs.

E.g. ləs - bad
ləsər - to spoil

ERIC
Hosted for free on livelingua.com

4. əs or s (i) denotes repeated or intensive action

E.g. pai - to jump pais - to jump about mun - to drink
muns - to drink much

(ii) converts adjectives into transitive verbs.

E.g. fith - blind
fithəs - to make blind

II. COMPOUND SUFFIXES

Compound siffixes can be made by using two or more of the above suffixes together.

1. a plus nɛ denotes spontaneous action.

E.g. fi - to die
fianɛ - to die of one's own accord

2. ər plus nɛ denotes action for or towards oneself.

E.g. fɔf - to speak
fɔfernɛ - to reason with oneself

3. əs plus nɛ denotes action for or towards oneself.

E.g. sɔthɔ - to get, obtain sɔthəsnɛ (sɔthnɛ) - to get an idea of, to suspect.

4. anɛ may be added after any other suffix, where the sense permits, to denote reflexive action.

E.g. pənk - foolish
pənkəs - to fool, deceive

5. əth denotes repeated action.

E.g. yif - to ask yifəth - to question
dif - to kill difəth - to massacre

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

6. nɛ denotes reflexive action.

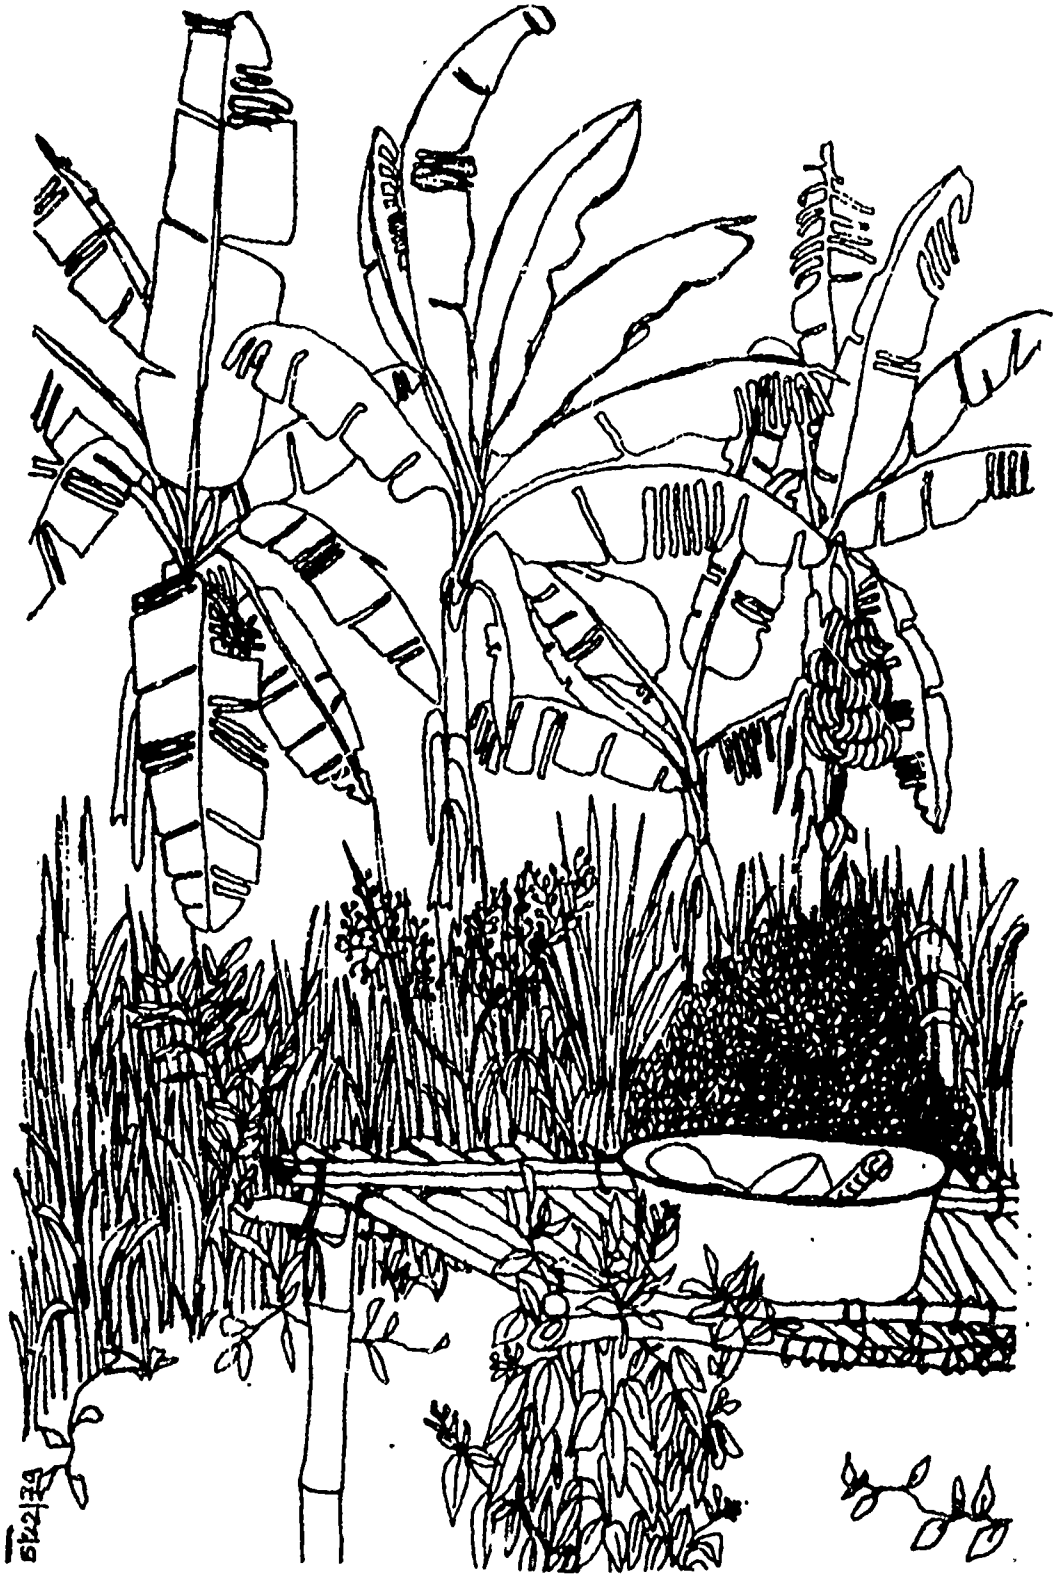

E.g.	dif	- to kill
	difnɛ	- to kill oneself
	seŋa	- to swear (someone)
	seŋanɛ	- to swear oneself, take an oath yifɔthanɛ	- to question each other (repeatedly)
	pɛmkɔsanɛ	- to fool one another

7. a may be added to other suffixes to denote that a preposition is understood.

E.g. lɔsɔra - to spoil for

The above are only examples of the use of verbal suffixes and do not constitute a complete list either of their meanings or of their possible combinations. A complete list would be almost impossible since there is a tendency for the precise meaning of a suffix to vary slightly according to the verb it is used with, and secondly because TEMNE speakers appear to invent suffix verbs as necessary.

GRAMMAR NOTES

PREPOSITIONS

1. SIMPLE PREPOSITIONS

Prepositions are far less numerous in Temne than they are in English.

The simple prepositions are:

ka	-	of, from, in, on, at, to ta	-	for ra	-	with
ro (do)	-	to, at ('ro' invariably becomes 'do' after 'n', 'ŋ' and after or before 'r'.
yi	-	with, by

NOTE 1: The meaning of 'ka' is usually obvious from the context, but where an exact meaning is necessary one of the compound prepositions can be used.

2. 'ro' is used mainly with place names, when it has the nature of a prefix and a preposition.

E.g. ro Masongbo - to/at Masongbo.

'ro' is also used idiomatically with a few nouns, and when this happens the noun loses a separable prefix but not an inseparable one, for example:

ro ta ka mi	-	in my hand (separable)
ro seth	-	in the house (separable)
ro thɔf	-	in or under the ground (separable)
ro mant	-	in the water (inseparable)

Hosted for free on livelingua.com

2. COMPOUND PREPOSITIONS

The compound prepositions are all compounds of ka, ta, ra and ro.

kadarəŋ	-	after, behind
rodarəŋ	-	"
kadi ka	-	before, in front of rodi ka	-	"
kadi ka	-	from
kawur ka	-	"
kawur ro	-	from (with place names)
katoŋ ka	-	between, among roratha ka	-	under ka...roratha	-	under (e.g. kaŋ sar doratha - under the stone)
rokom ka	-	on, from
ma...rokom	-	" " (e.g. kaŋ seth rokom - on the roof)
rokor ka	-	in, inside
ka...rokor		" " (e.g. ka akuma rokor - inside the box).
ka(ro)...rayar	-	near
sala ta	-	for the sake of, in connection with, according to.

NOTE: rodarəŋ, rodi, roratha, rokom, rokor are adverbs meaning behind, underneath, on top, inside respectively. They are converted into prepositions by adding ka, just as in English the adverb 'on top' is converted into a preposition by adding 'of'.

3. THE PREPOSITIONS 'FOR' WITH PERSONAL PRONOUNS

'For' followed by personal pronouns always has an idiomatic form for which there seems to be no logical grammatical explanation:

ta tami	-	for me
ta tamu	-	" you
ta toŋ	-	" him
ta tasu	-	" us
ta tanu	-	" you (pl.)
ta taŋaŋ	-	" them
