Hello dear invitees!

Did this music help you to get an idea of the country where you've decided to live for the next two years? It sounds like life in Turkmenistan, quiet, and calm. When you come to our country you'll see proud camels, freely roaming in the deserts, beautiful Ahal-Tekke horses and incredible hand-made wool rugs. Moreover you will see people wearing the national dresses in the streets and when you visit Turkmen homes, you'll have a chance to drink a lot of tea.

And now, let's get down to language. You know, language is one of the crucial things you need to know to be successful Volunteers. My name is Zohre. I'm the Language Coordinator of Peace Corps in Turkmenistan. I'll do my best to help you in your language study during your service here.

We are sending this CD to introduce Turkmen language to you. On the CD we have provided you with some key words, phrases and sentences along with their pronunciations. The CD follows the Turkmen scripts with their English translations.

Hopefully, you'll have a chance to learn some phrases, which may be helpful to you in the first days of your stay here. That way you will not feel completely lost, when you come to Turkmenistan. Success to you! I'm looking forward to working with you soon in Turkmenistan.
